SOUTH MT. FAIR ENDS SATURDAY; 5-DAY EVENTS DREW 38,000

The South Mountain Fair ended its 1956 season Saturday night with officials enthusiastically terming it "the biggest ever" and considering the possibility of securing additional land during the coming year in order to expand next September.

The need to increase parking space was first on the agenda of matters to be studied for next year. Friday and Saturday a field used several years ago for horse shows—was opened to park autos after the ten acre front parking space filled.

Use of the additional field worked out well "because everyone was careful," W. Clayton Jester, fair director said, but use of the field involved taking cars through the center of the fair and if the field is to be used next year some sort of access road will be needed.

Horse Show Drew 3,000
An estimated 38,000 saw the fair, 1,000 Tuesday evening, 10,000 on Wednesday, 4,500 on Thursday, 12,000 on Friday and 10,500 on Saturday.

A high point of Saturday's program was the ninth annual horse show which this year drew approximately 3,000 spectators and moved with unusual speed. The show, starting at 10 o'clock in the morning ended before 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Entries were fewer in most classes, but quality was higher horse show official said.

Winners Among Jumpers

"Antique," owned by D. E. Joseph, Dover R. 4, took first place in the open jumper class opening the show. Edward W. Read, Malvern, riding "Pickpocket," took second place in the open jumping and "X-Ray," owned by Baker and Russell, Mechanicsburg R. 1, and ridden by Dutch Baker, came in third. In the "Skyscraper Jump," last class of the day, Baker put "X-Ray" across a more than five-foot-high jump to take first place and "Antique" was second.

"Osborne dePreest," owned by John Diehl, Loganville, was first in the children's pleasure horse class. "Carlisle Sheryl," owned by Betsy Ann Danfelt, Chambersburg, was second; "Spanish Gold," entry of Baker and Russell, Mechanicsburg, third and "Sunshine Sue," owned by Nancy Wolff, Gettysburg, fourth.

Harold Childs, Ringtown, served as judge for the events. Clarence G. County Native Will Observe 100th Birthday

Mrs. Mary Alice Miller, formerly of Aspers but, now residing in Columbiana, Ohio, will celebrate her 100th birthday anniversary on Sept. 16. An "open house" will be held by her family at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar R. Baugher, Aspers, on Sunday from 1 until 4 o'clock.

Mrs. Miller was born in Menallen Twp. in 1856, a daughter of Henry and Eliza Eppelman. She spent 90 years in Adams County. She was married to John Henry Miller, son of James and Harriet Miller. She had six children, two of whom are living, James G. Miller, of Columbiana, Ohio, and Walter S. Miller, of Haverton, Pa. Eight grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren also survive.

MISS HARTZEL AND B. R. DEHOFF ARE WED SUNDAY

In a setting of white gladioli and palms Miss Martha Jane Hartzel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale N. Hartzel, Arendtsville, became the bride of Burnell Richard Dehoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman M. Dehoff, Biglerville, at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, in Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church, Arendtsville.

Mrs. Dale McCauslin, organist, accompanied the soloist, Wayne Guise, Biglerville, who sang "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle, fashioned with a small lace collar above a tulle yoke, long tapered sleeves and a fitted bodice. The very full skirt was designed with Chantilly lace applied on tulle and outlined with narrow tulle ruffles. Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a small crown of pearl orange blossoms, and she carried a white Bible, a gift of the bridegroom, topped with a white orchid and white pompons.

Sister Is Attendant

The matron of honor, Mrs. Purcell Bohrer Jr., Arendtsville, sister of the bride, wore a light green ballerina-length gown with a fitted princess line bodice, a V-neck neckline, and an insertion of matching lace at the hipline above the full, shirred skirt. She wore a small matching hat of straw with tiny starched veil, and carried a (Continued on Page 4)

Joint School Board Will Meet Tonight

The Gettysburg Joint School Board will hold its September meeting this evening at 8 o'clock in the high school building. The agenda lists action on a resolution to expedite the plans for construction of another grade school building in the district, a discussion of the repairs needed to the roadway in front of the new high school auditorium. Bids will be opened on a new bassoon for the high school band.

CARS SIDESWIPE

Occupants of two automobiles escaped injury about 3 o'clock Saturday morning when the vehicles sideswiped on Route 34 three miles south of Mt. Holy Springs. Police said the cars were operated by Charles R. Kuhn Jr., 23, Gardner R. 2, and Robert W. Fox, 21, Gettysburg. Damage to the cars was estimated at $450 each.

"They Met At Gettysburg" By General E. J. Stackpole Is Latest Book On The Battle

An important new book on the Battle of Gettysburg makes its appearance this week coincident with the celebration of Gettysburg's Sesquicentennial.

It is "THEY MET AT GETTYSBURG," by General Edward J. Stackpole, prominent Harrisburg publisher, military student and civic leader, who has made an avocation of the study of the famous battle.

The Gettysburg Times feels that "THEY MET AT GETTYSBURG" is such an outstanding contribution to a full understanding of the conflict that took place here nearly 100 years ago, that this newspaper has arranged to have a shipment of the first copies off the press whisked here by special truck in time for the Sesquicentennial celebration. The book will be released here Wednesday.

What makes "THEY MET AT GETTYSBURG" of such exceptional interest both to residents of Gettysburg and tourists is the fact that—strange as it may seem—it is the first really definitive accu-

25 Appeals Are Being Heard Today

The Adams County commissioners, sitting at the court house this morning as the county's Assessment Appeals board, heard the first 15 of an anticipated 90 appeal from assessments this year.

The commissioners expect to complete the hearings by Friday noon and in many cases, as was the case this morning, the commissioners will visit the properties before making final decisions on whether to lower the assigned assessment or continue them as they are.

A total of 25 appeal hearings are scheduled for today and a similar number for Tuesday.

Other Books Incomplete
Detailed books on the battle written soon after the war contained a wealth of excellent material, it is true. But in general they lacked adequate perspective and requisite professional background, and often failed to clarify the tactical picture or to afford an understanding of the interplay of personalities and events. Understandably, also, in some cases these earlier books even perpetuated errors found in some of the original maps and reports.

Later studies have been mostly biographical in character, using the battle primarily as background for the book's main theme. Still others, while excellent as synopses, were too brief and sweeping to satisfy the reader who wants the whole story. Finally there are available in libraries numerous unit histories or stories of individual participants which, though valuable

HOLY NAME UNIT PLANS EVENTS

Plans for a number of activities were outlined Sunday evening by the Holy Name Society of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church at a meeting in the parochial school, W. High St.

President Charles Hemler named Daniel Sanders chairman for the annual turkey party to be held November 20 at Xavier Hall. George Haenn was named chairman for the annual communion breakfast following the mass for deceased members November 11. A reception for new members in January was planned. Participation Tuesday evening, September 18, in the annual Forty Hours Devotion was outlined.

George Haenn and Wilbur Redding were named delegates to the Southern Regional Union of Holy Name Societies October 14 at 2:30 p.m. at Dallastown. Leo McDermitt and Daniel Sanders were named alternates. Dr. Joseph H. Riley is vice president of the three-county regional unit.

Glenn Shriner was appointed chairman for an outing by members and their wives to Hershey in December to see the ice follies. The fourth $100 installment on a $500 pledge to the Delone High School building fund was paid. Next meeting will be held October 14.

LOCAL WINNERS AT WAYNESBORO

A number of Gettysburgians, after taking part in the South Mountain Fair horse show on Saturday, went to the annual show on Sunday of the Waynesboro Bit and Bridle Club and came home with a generous helping of top prizes.

Miss Constance Schroll, Orrtanna, riding "Playmor's Fancy Boy," took first place in the pleasure horse class and other first for horsemanship.

Cheri Swope took first place in the lead line pony class with "Great Boy" and Debby Swope placed second with the same pony in the pony driving class. Debby was fifth with "Peaches" in the small pony riding class.

Mary Bruce Wolff was third in the pony driving competition and second with "Trigger" in the small pony class.

Edward Straub Jr. took a second place in the three-gaited class and was second also in the leadline class. Wilson Clapsaddle placed second in the cloverleaf race and took two other third places. Charles Jacobs and Nancy Wolff placed third in the pair class.

County Weds In Westminster Today

Miss Joan Arlene Shaffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Shaffer, Westminster R. 1, became the bride of Henry J. Arnsberger, son of Mrs. J. W. Arnsberger, Biglerville R. 1, this morning at 10 o'clock in St. Paul's Evangelical Reformed Church, Westminster. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Paul V. Hellen.

The bride attended the Westminster schools. Mr. Shaffer attended the Biglerville schools and is employed by the Inland State Container Corp., Biglerville. The couple will reside for the time being at Westminster R. 1.

APPLY FOR LICENSE

Donald E. Meckley, York, and Shirley Ann Shank, Gettysburg, have made application for a marriage license in York.

SET HEARING ON SETTLEMENT IN DAMAGE ACTION

The Adams County Court Saturday set October 17 at 10 a.m. as the time for hearing on a proposed settlement of an action in trespass brought by Robert M. Bedwell, Westminster R. 1, in connection with the auto accident death of his ten-year-old son in 1954 while an occupant of a car driven by the late Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sutphin, of Littlestown R. 1.

According to papers proposing the settlement filed with the court Saturday, a compromise of $2,750 is suggested, of which $500 will go to attorneys as their fees.

The suit brought by Mr. Bedwell as administrator of the estate of his son, Bobby Clark Bedwell, is against Chester S. Byers, Littlestown, and Raymond T. Sanders, McSherrystown, administrators of the estates of Rudy McQueen Sutphin and Harold E. Sutphin, husband and wife, late of Littlestown R. 1.

Divorce Granted

The Sutphins and the youth were fatally injured August 30, 1954, three miles from Harrisonburg, Va., according to the complaint in the action in trespass, when Mrs. Sutphin, driving the car owned by Mr. Sutphin, passed another vehicle and ran head on into a car traveling in the opposite direction.

According to the complaint the $2,250 to be received, ($2,750 minus the lawyer's fees) will be divided between parents, two sisters and a brother of the deceased youngster.

A divorce was granted by the court Saturday to Guy M. Benchoff, Greenstone, from Helen (Morrow) Benchoff, of West Palm Beach, Fla. and Dallas, Texas, Desertion was charged.

Attorney Edward B. Bulleit, was appointed master in the divorce action of Roy Bly, New Oxford R. 1, against Lottie Catherine (Spertzel) Bly, York Springs R. 2.

Divorce Hits Snarl

The court set October 15 at 10 a.m. as the time for a hearing on a proposal to sell a property in Oxford Twp. owned by the dissolved Adams Stone Products Co., to Bethlehem Limestone Co. for $10,000. The property was bought by George O. Adams when he was the sole stockholder of Adams Stone Products in 1929, according to the papers filed by his widow, Amanda A. Adams, Hanover. Mr. Adams died in 1954, leaving all his property to his widow. The Adams Stone Products Co. had been dissolved in 1944, according to the paper filed with the court.

The divorce action of Kenneth Olinger Jr. against Bonnie Jean (Benton) Olinger, Spokane, Wash., has run into a legal snarl because it has been learned that the wife will not be 21 until May 8, 1957, according to papers filed with the court Saturday. One paper asked that the court appoint a guardian for Mrs. Olinger, and the court handed down a rule on her to give cause why a guardian should not be appointed for the action. The other, from Attorney Donald G. Oyler, asked extension of time in which to file a master's report because of the legal delay. The extension was granted.

Countians Invited To State Conference

Adams County teachers, administrators, parents and members of the Adams County Association for Retarded Children today were invited to attend the 23rd annual conference of the Pennsylvania Conference for the Education of Exceptional Children, to be held at the Holiday Motel, at the Gettysburg Intersection of the Turnpike September 28 and 29.

Miss E. Elizabeth Rutledge, supervisor of special education for the county, said seminars will be held on science, homemaking, music and safety, and on study of curriculum development for special classes. Programs used in various school districts will be outlined. The sessions September 29 will include a breakfast at which Dr. Elizabeth Kelly will speak and seminars on art, arithmetic, woodworking and day care training class techniques. Further information is available from Miss Rutledge at the County superintendent of school's office.

TAYLOR RITES SATURDAY

Funeral services for William H. Taylor, Mummaburg, who died in the York City Hospital Wednesday evening, were held at the Bender Funeral Home Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock with the Rev. Amos Myer, Mummaburg, officiating. Interment was in the Mummaburg Cemetery.

The pallbearers were: John Coble, Roy Taylor Jr., Paul Kahler, William Breighner, Guy Hartman and Raymond Guise.

AT STATE MEETING

Frank J. Slonaker, Gettysburg, Adams County member of the Pennsylvania State Republican Committee, was in Pittsburgh Friday and Saturday for the meeting of the State committee in the Penn-Sheraton Hotel there.

$3,500 Damage When Truck Upsets, Burns

Damage estimated at $3,500 was caused by fire early this morning when a truck tractor and trailer ran off the Hanover-Carlisle Highway two miles east of York Springs, upset and caught fire.

The tractor, owned by Henry C. Clebenstine, Bellefonte R. 2, was damaged to the extent of about $3,000 and the trailer, which was the property of Atlantic Freight Lines out of Uniontown, Pa., suffered $500 damage before York Springs firemen extinguished the flames. The driver was reported unharmed.

York Springs firemen received the call about 1:30 o'clock this morning to the scene of the crash near Robert Fair's service station.

The Boy Scouts of America, now numbering 4,175,000 boy members and adult leaders, will have a realistic experience in citizenship this year.

Together with the Freedoms Foundation, Inc., of Valley Forge, they will conduct a Get-Out-the-Vote campaign, strictly nonpartisan in its concept and execution.

First they will promote the registration of all persons eligible to vote. A principal reason for not voting is failure to register. It has been applied said that bad candidates are elected by good people who do not vote.

Throughout the nation before registration days, Scouts will put in public places one and a quarter million posters bearing the slogan, "Vote as you think—but vote November 6."

The Scouts will encourage registered persons to vote on Election Day. On Saturday, November 3, Scouts will call at 35,000 homes across the nation. They will hang on door-knobs a Liberty Bell placard bearing the message, "Heed youth's call. Vote as you think, but vote November 6, 1956. Use your freedom to vote."

Scouting has long had participating citizenship based on good character as one of its principal goals. We are certain that this organized and patriotic group, qualified to render effective service, will roll up another mighty Good Turn to the nation.

The job needs to be done. Should the time come when Americans lose their interest in the right to vote, and neglect to make the small effort voting requires, the right to vote would gradually disappear. Self-government endures only when the people support it vigorously. The act of voting is in itself an expression of good citizenship and appreciation of democratic privilege. Who can remain sensibly indifferent to an election that, choosing the men and women whose acts and decisions affect the lives of all of us.

300 Scouts To Camp On Battlefield Here

Colonel Coleman B. Mark, of Arlington, Va., vice chairman of the James E. West Boy Scout District in Washington, D. C.; William S. Anderson, another vice chairman, and Thomas F. Lehmer, district Scout executive, were in Gettysburg over the weekend making arrangements for a Boy Scout camp on the Battlefield September 28, 29, 30.

Colonel Mark, who will be remembered as the supervisor of construction of the two camps for Civil War veterans here in 1938, said between 300 and 400 Boy Scouts will be here for the three-day affair.

Kills Wife, Wounds Friend And Then Tries To End Life

BRISTOL, Pa. —An enraged husband fired point blank at his estranged wife yesterday, killing her, then critically wounded her woman companion and tried to take his own life, police said.

William Smith, 29, of Philadelphia, was reported in critical condition today in Lower Bucks County Hospital after surgeons removed part of a 38 calibre bullet from near his brain. In another part of the hospital, also in critical condition, was Helen Songer, 27, of Bristol, who underwent surgery for removal of a bullet from her back.

Smith shot himself and the Songer woman early yesterday after first killing his wife, Mrs. Ethel Smith, as she mounted stairs toward her second floor apartment with Miss Songer, police said.

Tries To Escape

The Songer woman fled and was pounding on the back door of a nearby home when a bullet ripped into her back.

ORIENTATION AT MOUNT OPENS SUNDAY NIGHT

Freshman orientation for 215 incoming students at Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, began Sunday at 6 p.m. and will continue through September 12.

September 12 at 7 p.m., following a tour of the campus, the freshmen will assemble in Flynn Hall where they will be welcomed by Rt. Rev. Msgr. John L. Sheridan, president of the college. Afterwards Rt. Rev. Msgr. William F. Culhane, college vice president, will discuss the aims and ideals of the college. Fr. Paul V. Redmond, dean of freshmen, will outline the regulations on discipline.

This morning the freshmen began a battery of placement tests that will continue throughout the day. Students will undergo testing programs in English, mathematics and contemporary affairs. Following dinner, a general assembly will be held at 6 o'clock in which Rev. Francis P. Kearney, dean of studies, will explain academic requirements; Rev. Joseph Tremonti, C.S.V., director of guidance, will discuss the counseling services of the college; Dr. John J. Dillon, Jr., director of public relations, and Major A. G. Schwenk, USMC, will also participate with the latter enumerating opportunities for commissions in the Marine Corps.

Receive Several Tests

Tests in religion, social studies, and natural science will fill the program for Tuesday with an Open House scheduled for the evening. On September 12 all freshmen will confer individually with representatives of their major department. At 10 a.m. classes in library orientation will begin. At 8:30 p.m. a Square Dance will be held in Memorial Gymnasium for the freshmen of Mount St. Mary's and St. Joseph's Colleges.

Classes for both freshmen and upperclassmen will begin on September 13 at 11:15 a.m. following a Solemn Mass of the Holy Ghost which traditionally begins the school year. Rt. Rev. Msgr. John L. Sheridan. (Continued on Page 3)

Five Gettysburg High Grads At Penn State

Five members of the graduating class at Gettysburg High School in June entered Pennsylvania State University Sunday as Freshmen for a week of orientation. They included Darlene Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Linden Baker of Baltimore and granddaughter of Vernon Baker, Gettysburg R. 1; John Coleman, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. Walter Coleman, Emmitsburg Rd.; Roland Schriver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer H. Schriver, Oak Ridge; Hugh M. McIlhenny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh C. Bearded Men To March

Fred H. Attinger, chairman of the beard contest for the Sesqui has asked that all of the 130 men wearing beards appear as unit in the Sesqui parade. The bearded gentry will form on Fourth St. at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon to take part in the parade.

Numerous local organizations are planning to enter marching units and floats in the parade. In addition there will be at least 25 ancient cars and numerous horses and horse drawn vehicles.

Sunday will be devoted to church services, with ministers scheduled to mark the history of their churches in connection with the regular services.

Events Next Week

Monday, September 17, will be an outstanding day in the Sesqui. Burgess Weaver said. Merchants of the community and their clerks are planning to dress in costumes of an earlier year, and many are planning to redo their store windows with merchandise of other years. Final plans for the merchants participation will be made at a meeting of the Retail Merchants on Wednesday evening 7 of this week at the court house. David Blocher, president of the organization, said. The costumed merchants and clerks are expected to attract visitors from many other communities to the stores.

Other events next week include a Kiddies parade, a showing of home movies made in Gettysburg over the last two decades, judging of the beards, a pageant on Gettysburg College athletic field September 21 and 22, an old timers night September 22, and a Jaycee fly-in, September 23.

The Woman's Club, DAR and other organizations will unite to place a display in the Hotel Gettysburg pressroom September 15 through 22 showing four rooms furnished in period style, old-fashioned quilts, and other relics and antiques.

Clubs Plan Events

GHS BANDS HAVE BUSY SCHEDULE

The Senior and Junior Bands at Gettysburg High School have a busy 10 days ahead of them with a number of special appearances scheduled in the school and community. Director Robert G. Zeigler said today.

On Wednesday afternoon the Senior band participates in the Ziegler's Grove on Hancock Ave. On Thursday evening the Junior Band will "serenade" in front of the Elks' home on York St. from 5:30 until 6 p.m. preceding the dinner which is being held as a part of the 50th anniversary celebration.

On Friday the football game here with Delone will see the Senior High and the Delone bands in action and both of the Gettysburg High School bands will take part in the Sesqui parade here on Saturday afternoon and the services of one or both bands have been requested for the Kiddies' Parade on Tuesday evening, September 18.

The Senior band this year is composed of 60 playing members, nine majorettes, four colorguards and the drum major. The Junior Band has 72 members with seven majorettes, two banner carriers and a drum major. The Keefeauver Elementary band is in process of organization. It will rehearse two times each week, Mondays and Thursday, at 8:30 a.m. in the all-purpose room.

Gorman Attains Honors As Plebe

Merle Gorman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gorman, 22½ Chambersburg St., was recently honored at the U. S. Navy Academy, Annapolis, Md., by being chosen as one of the regimental sub-commanders during the Plebe summer program. From September until June Week upper classmen serve as commanders.

Gorman was also ranked 67th in the Plebe class of approximately 1,000, the ranking being based on all marks given during the summer program which primarily concerns phases of seamanship.

The former Gettysburg High School athlete has also been selected as a member of the Plebe football squad. He entered the academy July 9 after graduating from the local high school in June.

DEATHS

Mrs. P. B. Dunbar
Mrs. Paul B. Dunbar, 77, the former Miss Alice Davison, Elmira, N. Y., died last Saturday in a Washington, D. C., hospital. Mrs. Dunbar suffered a heart attack the previous week. Funeral services were held today in Bethesda, Md.

The late Mrs. Dunbar married Dr. Dunbar in 1910. A 1904 graduate of Gettysburg College, he was associated with the U. S. Food and Drug Administration in Washington from 1907 to 1951 when he retired. They resided in Chevy Chase, Md.

Prior to her marriage, Mrs. Dunbar had been associated with him as a chemist. She studied at Elmira College and the University of Pennsylvania.

DR. COLEMAN SPEAKS TO SUV

Gettysburg was not only a battlefield of the Civil War, but it also became in time a place for the binding of ties between the north and south. Dr. J. Walter Coleman, superintendent of the Gettysburg National Park, told the delegates of the national organizations of the Sons of Union Veterans, Auxiliary of the SUV and Ladies of the GAR at the opening of their convention sessions at Harrisburg Sunday night.

Speaking in the Forum at a "Campfire Program" held by the three national organizations, Dr. Coleman outlined the three-day battle here, stressing the events as they affected the people of the area.

Shriver Introduced
"In later days Gettysburg became a place where the old veterans met and were reconciled, but there were evidences even during the battle of the friendship and charitable feeling that existed between men of the North and of the South while they fought. The story of Generals Gordon and Barlow, and their friendship surmounting the battle on the first day at Gettysburg is a good example of the feeling of reconciliation that existed even when the fighting was in progress." Dr. Coleman will speak again during the Ladies of the GAR banquet at Harrisburg Tuesday evening.

Dr. Sylvester K. Stevens, director of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission, spoke at the campfire program on the Grand Army of the Republic and its impact on the state and nation over a 90-year period. Members of the Gettysburg Camp of the Sons of Union Veterans carried the commander-in-chief's colors at the campfire program held at Harrisburg and will again carry the colors Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the dedication of the GAR monument in Ziegler's Grove here.

Chester S. Shriver, Gettysburg R. 4, commander of the Pennsylvania Department of the SUV, was among those introduced at the Forum program. Shriver will be master of ceremonies at Tuesday evening's Ladies of the GAR banquet at Harrisburg.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church Lays Cornerstone Sunday For Annex

A special cornerstone laying service was held in St. Paul's Lutheran Church on Sunday morning attended by a large congregation.

The service began at 10:30 a.m. with the organ prelude, "The Swan," Saint-Saens, played by Mrs. Winfield A. Lippy, church organist; special anthem by the choir, "More Love to Thee," James N. Hopkins, directed by L. Robert Snyder; sermon appropriate to the occasion delivered by the pastor, the Rev. David S. Kammerer, on the subject, "Rebuilding the Walls," "So build we the walls and all the walls was joined together."

Immediately after the sermon the congregation moved in procession to the rear of the new building where the cornerstone was to be laid. The procession was led by the choir, followed by the Rev. Mr. Kammerer, the building committee, members of the church council members and friends of the congregation, totaling about 350. The service for laying the cornerstone was read by the pastor. The choir led the congregation in giving the responses. The service concluded with singing of the "Doxology," followed with the benediction pronounced by the Rev. Mr. Kammerer.

The cornerstone was a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Plunkert, of the congregation. The stone has been inscribed with "1956." A copper box, also given by Mr. and Mrs. Plunkert, was placed in the stone. In the box was a small Bible, given by the minister and wife, one which they took with them when the congregation sent them on a trip to the Mediterranean countries including Egypt and Palestine, about two and a half years ago. It was presented to them by their son and daughter-in-law, Rev. and Mrs. John W. Kammerer, who are now serving the Aaronburg Lutheran parish in Centre County. In addition to the Bible, the copper box also contains a church statement with the members of the congregation, along with a church bulletin for the day. On church stationery were written the names of the building committee, the church council, Sunday School superintendents, organist music instructors names of donors and also the text of the message delivered on the occasion.

The actual laying of the cornerstone was performed by Ernest Koons, who is in charge of the mason work of the building project. The project consists of an addition of 20 feet to the present Primary Department of the church school, making the building 50 by 70 feet; a second story also will be added to the structure. The building, when completed, will have a social hall and new heating plant in the basement; Nursery and Beginners Departments on the first floor; Primary, Junior and Intermediate Departments on the second floor. A church parlor and pastor's study will be included in the new addition. The entire structure will be encased in brick which will correspond with the brick of the main church edifice. The cost of construction is estimated between $80,000 and $90,000.

The building committee includes Arthur E. Bair Sr., chairman, Luther D. Snyder, Charles E. Ritter, Charles E. Rabenstein, Irvin R. Kindig, the Rev. Mr. Kammerer, ex-officio. The present church councilmen are Irvin Kins, Emory H. Snyder, Warren C. Harner, Edgar Mehrling, James V. Yingling, Charles E. Ritter, Herbert Plunkert, Dennis Plunkert, Howard Myers, Paul C. Mayers, Frank E. Basehoar and G. Richard Knipple. Serving as councilmen when the building project was first conceived were Arthur E. Bair Sr., H. Dean Stover, Charles Kump, David Shildt, Thomas E. Craig and Maurice E. Bream.

120 HOLY NAME MEN ATTEND SUNDAY EVENT

The Right Rev. Msgr. Joseph O'Donnell, rector of Mount St. Mary's Seminary, Emmitsburg, was guest speaker at the communion breakfast held in the parish hall on Sunday morning following the mass, Holy Communion and reception of new members into the Holy Name Society in St. Aloysius Catholic Church, Littlestown, at 7 a.m.

Immediately after Holy Communion during the mass, reception ceremonies for 23 new members, were conducted by the pastor, the Rev. William A. Boyle. Those received into the Society were Francis Prato, John Busbey, Stewart N. Long, Beaven F. Hanlon, Earl G. Sanders, John Little, Michael Collins, Eugene Sentz, Leo Losago, James Hymiller, Robert J. Eckenrode Jr., John R. Rudisill Jr., Merle C. Little, Burnell R. Keagy, Richard Selby, Harry W. Stavely Jr., Ronald Ooster, John Goulden, William H. Gross, Pius V. Pautenis Jr., Bruce J. A. Wright, George A. Wherley and Clyde H. Rohrbach.

John R. Rudisill Sr., president of the society, served as master of ceremonies at the ham and egg breakfast. He spoke briefly, then presented the pastor, Father Boyle, who outlined the spiritual duties of a Holy Name man. Father Boyle introduced Msgr. O'Donnell, who gave the opening prayer and the first reading from the Holy Name principles, the good which can result from following the rules, and the scandal which can be caused by disregarding them.

Other officers of the Holy Name Society are vice president, Leo Riley; secretary, Conrad C. Hull and treasurer, Paul Bunty. Thomas French and Z. W. Sanders are delegates to the Southern Regional Holy Name Union.

A shrine in honor of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, with candelabra and cut flowers, occupied the center of the stage. Women of the parish who prepared and served the breakfast included Mrs. George A. Kress Sr., Mrs. Ivan Rickrode, Mrs. Donald Harner, Mrs. Joseph H. Redding, Mrs. Bernard Kuhns, Mrs. Bernard M. Selby, Mrs. John R. Rudisill, Mrs. George Ernst, Mrs. Regina Arter, Mrs. Roy Kebab, Mrs. Z. Sand-

RUPERT HUGHES DIES ON SUNDAY

LOS ANGELES (U. P.) — Death has taken Rupert Hughes, 84, author, soldier-composer who called himself a jack-of-all-trades.

The prolific writer of fiction, history, biography, poetry and movie and radio scripts succumbed yesterday at the home of his brother Felix, a voice teacher. The author, an uncle of millionaire industrialist Howard Hughes, had lived there the past six years and had been in poor health the last year and a half. He suffered a stroke about four years ago and another a year later. For several months he had been largely confined to his upstairs room but was able to walk with help.

In compliance with Hughes' wishes, there will be no funeral. The body will be cremated and the ashes placed beside those of his third wife at Forest Lawn Memorial Park in nearby Glendale.

Shed Burns Sunday At Hanover Shoe Farm

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a 20 by 30-foot weatherboard wagon shed on the Hanover Shoe Farm, Mt. Pleasant, Sunday at 1:30 p.m.

The loss, covered by insurance, was estimated at $800 by Monroe Baumgardner, chief of the Friendship Fire Company, Pennville. The farm is tenanted by Kenneth Utz.

Four pumpers from the Friendship and McSherrytown Fire Companies were on the scene. Water was pumped from booster tanks and was used from a fire hydrant in Mt. Pleasant, about 500 feet from the scene. Firemen were credited with preventing the blaze from spreading to a nearby chicken house.

Waynesboro Bows To Martinsburg

HARVEST HOME FESTIVAL HELD

A large congregation was present for the worship in observance of the annual Festival of Harvest Home on Sunday morning in Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed Church. The chancel was decorated with gifts of food stuffs. Basket bearers for the service were Donald Arbogast and Richard Seiwel. The pastor, the Rev. Porter W. Seiwel delivered a message on the theme, "The Festival Of The Harvest." The Senior Choir sang the anthem "Beautiful Saviour," directed by Mrs. Richard A. Little Jr. and accompanied by Mrs. George A. Stonesifer. The bulletins were given by Mr. and Mrs. John W. LeGore in memory of their parents.

The Rev. Mr. Seiwel announced that all presidents of organizations, choir director, organist and others who wish items printed in the Sunday bulletin, October 1 is the deadline for all new announcements for the four Sundays in October and the first two Sundays in November. All of these bulletins will be printed the week of October 1.

Rally Day will be observed in Redeemer's Sunday School on September 16 at 9:15 a.m. Guest speaker in the Adult Department will be the Rev. Christopher J. Noss, pastor of St. Mary's Reformed Church, Silver Run.

75 YEARS AGO

The President (Garfield) at Long Branch: The removal of the President to Long Branch was not followed by any of the unfavorable consequences many persons anticipated. He rapidly recovered from the exhaustion of the journey, and passed through the excessive heat of the week wonderfully. He had been longing for removal from Washington, and once at the sea shore he brightened up. His pulse became firmer; the parotid gland and wound assumed an improved appearance, and the general feeling among the surgeons and attendants became one of increased hopefulness. Thursday and Friday were regarded as the best days the President had since he was shot.

Sudden Death: Major Samuel Lohr, residing beyond Marsh Creek, on the Chambersburg pike, died suddenly yesterday morning of heart disease. He was burning near his residence, and was conversing with Capt. James Mickley, when he fell over dead. He was about 72 years old.

Reading that the President wanted squirrel broth but could not get a squirrel from which to make it, two little girls in Pennsylvania sent him a pet squirrel by express—Exchange.

The "two little girls" referred to in the above paragraph are Ellie and Laura Hoke, daughters of Mr. Abraham Hoke of Straban Twp., this county. They sent their squirrel by Adams Express, the agent sending them, free of charge. Ellie and Laura will be glad to know that their squirrel reached the President.

Pennsylvania College: The first session now the new collegiate year of this institution opened on Thursday last, with a large accession of new students in both the Collegiate and Preparatory Departments. We understand that the number of students on the ground in the collegiate department is larger than at any previous period in history of the institution. For want of accommodations in the college building a number of students have taken rooms in town. The freshman class opens with thirty-three.

Today's Talk

AGAINSTERS

You know this person — he or she is the one who blocks progress and better times by opposing every forward proposition in his or her town, and who tries to get others to do likewise. Fortunately, this minority is always small, but forever out to do all the damage it can. Such people are the Againsters!

Every age has known these terrible human beings, forever boring into important projects, hoping to defeat them, or at least to slow them up. And for no reason beyond that of just being against them anyway. To argue with such people is a waste of time, for they have their minds set. Whatever it is they are against it.

I recall one of these Againsters. I always looked upon him as being too smart and intelligent to be associated with such folks but he seemed to delight in their company. He was a good listener. He would be very patient, and after he had listened for some time he would merely say, "I am not for it. I want nothing to do with it. Count me out, as that Hollywood director would have said. I am against everything of its kind."

Then there is the one who is against a person, or his proposition, until he is in such a small minority that he gets lonesome and goes "over the enemy." It is fine for any one of us to have the courage to oppose wrong, no matter how fancy its name may be, but on an intelligent basis, and for cause—not merely to be ignorantly against just to get the notice of the opposition. Wrong is wrong, whether in Norway or Pekin, Illinois. There are endless opportunities to be against wrong without wasting time in defending it. So there is the wholesale Againsters who is a credit to any community.

It's the drone type that we want to eliminate. It's the fighter for the right whom we want on our side and we on his!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Locality."

GROVE PATTERSON

We were eager cubs together in our paper's early days.
Down the years I had his friendship though we traveled different ways.
We attended many meetings, both as speakers, I and he.
And Grove started every program with a word or two for me.

I have always had his friendship, and today I'm thinking this:
Through the years that lie before me he is one whom I shall miss.
I shall see his bright eyes twinkle at the feasts we used to share, and at every dinner table there will be his vacant chair.

There's a price for growing older every one of us must pay.
From the roll of friends we cherish always some are called away.
Time leaves the number fewer; though affection may be deep, notwithstanding our devotion there are those we cannot keep.

I shall have to live more bravely and life's burdens better bear.
Since Grove's hand upon my shoulder will no longer settle there.

He has made that final journey from which no return can be, and I'm sure when he is questioned he will say a word for me.

GLASS STRIKE ENDS SUNDAY

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A nine-day strike of 3,000 moldmakers against 32 manufacturers of glass containers ended last night when agreement was reached on a one-year contract.

Federal Mediator William Rose, who announced the settlement, said it provided a 14½ cent an hour boost for the men who had averaged $2.38 hourly when the walkout started Sept. 1. He said the agreement would permit some 43,000 other workers to return to work. They had respected picket lines set up by the American Flint Glass Workers Union.

The agreement was between the union and the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute. A few of the 3,000 affected moldmakers also

SUEZ EFFORTS SHIFT BACK TO LONDON TODAY

LONDON (AP) — Egypt bid today for a parity representing the views of all users of the Suez Canal to tackle the stalemate that Cairo negotiations failed to solve. The key issue is control of the canal.

"Egypt desires to state its determination to continue to work for a negotiated settlement within the letter and spirit of the charter of the United Nations," an Egyptian communique said.

LONDON (AP) — Efforts to solve the Suez Canal crisis shifted to London today with the collapse of negotiations with President Nasser in Cairo.

Britain and France faced a choice between war and further diplomatic dithering. French Premier Guy Mollet and Foreign Minister Christian Pineau headed here to plan the next move with Prime Minister Eden and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies of Australia was due here today from Cairo to report failure of his mission to persuade Nasser to accept operation of the waterway by an international board.

Final Meeting Brief
The five-nation Menzies committee ended its weeklong talks with last night. The Egyptian President's parting words included the warning that any attempt to impose "collective domination" on the Suez Canal would be "the signal for incalculable strife."

An exchange of documents revealed that neither side budged an inch during the Cairo talks. Menzies told reporters the situation was "very, very grave."

British public opinion seemed to favor an appeal to the United Nations. Newspapers of varying political views predicted such a course.

The French, on the other hand, still seemed to prefer a stronger course. Mollet told a public meeting in Normandy that his previous statements that Nasser's nationalization of the Suez Canal was a "grab" which could not be countenanced "still remain valid."

In Washington, State Department officials appeared less alarmed than the British and French. U.S. officials view the Cairo discussions as at least providing a cooling-off period and felt it was unlikely Britain and France now would resort to military force to keep the canal from Egypt's sole control.

Both nations have marshaled troops and warships at Cyprus and other Mediterranean staging areas. They also have frozen Egyptian economic assets in their countries.

Backed By 18 Nations
The Cairo mission, composed of Australia, the United States, Iran, Ethiopia and Sweden, carried to Nasser the plan of U.S. Secretary of State Dulles for an international board, including Egypt, to run the canal. Nasser nationalized the old canal management, the Suez Canal Co., 47 days ago. The action provoked fear in Britain and several other countries that the Egyptian strongman might close the canal at any time, hike tolls exorbitantly, or allow it to fall into disrepair.

Eighteen nations endorsed the Dulles proposal.

The opposing arguments at the Cairo talks were disclosed in documents made public by the Australian government.

Like Tenant, Landlord
Menzies denied Nasser's stand that international control would violate Egyptian sovereignty. The Australian statesman compared the relationship of the proposed international board to Egypt to that between a tenant and a landlord in a final letter to Nasser.

"On this analogy, our proposal would mean that the tenant of the canal would pay to Egypt a substantial rental which must unquestionably grow as the traffic through the canal increases," Menzies said, "and that in the meantime the tenant would, in the exercise of its managerial and financial powers, be constantly improving the value of Egypt's asset."

Nasser replied that internationalization "would, in fact, mean taking over the operation of the canal . . . the system proposed is bound to be considered and treated by the people of Egypt as the hostile infringing upon their rights and their sovereignty, all of which precludes real co-operation."

The Egyptian President said his country has not and would not interfere with Suez shipping. He offered to reaffirm the Constantinople Convention of 1888, which guaranteed freedom of transit to all nations.

were employed in plants represented by the National Assn. of Pressed and Blown Glassware.

The association's plants also have been struck by some 7,000 members of the American Flint Glass Workers Union. They are miscellaneous workers who averaged about 1.75 an hour under their contract which expired Sept. 1.

Negotiations between the association and the union have been recessed indefinitely at the call of Rose. The mediator said he hoped to talk to both sides today in an effort to get the talks resumed.

BUTLER SAYS DEMOCRATS LACK MONEY

By LEE GARRETT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler said today campaign spending should be limited "to make impossible the control of elections merely through expenditures of money."

The Democrats in this campaign "will not be able to spend as much money as the Republican party," Butler said in testimony prepared for a Senate Elections subcommittee hearing. "We have not been and will not be able to raise as much."

Both Butler and GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall were invited to appear as the subcommittee opened what it called "a deep and thorough scrutiny" of the size and sources of campaign contributions and spending.

Hopes For Benefits
Chairman Gore (D-Tenn.) told an ABC-TV audience he hopes the study will "have a salutary effect on the conduct of the election."

Gore said that although the pre-election hearings may tend to reduce contributions which are generally made in secrecy, he thinks they may increase gifts from citizens made more aware of the high cost of campaign.

Butler said that "the only democratic way to finance adequately a modern campaign is to do everything possible to encourage large numbers of small contributions from citizens."

Most From Corporations
Contending that most Republican campaign funds have come from representatives of large corporations, he said, "There has been a marked reciprocal tendency for the Republican party to govern in the interests of the contributors," and added:

"We would like to make sure that the popular base of campaign contributions is broad enough so that a party is not obligated to any person or group because that person or group has financed its election to office."

VETERAN PILOTS ELECT OFFICERS
WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Russ Brinkley, Harrisburg, is the new president of the OX5 club, a group of onetime pilots of oldtime airplanes.

About 400 club members and guests from 17 states attended the first international convention of the group Saturday.

A plaque was awarded to radio and television entertainer Arthur Godfrey as "Mr. OX5 of 1956," actual presentation, however, will take place on one of Godfrey's TV shows later in the year.

John D. Bartow, Philadelphia, was awarded a plaque as "Mr. Pennsylvania aviation for 1956."

The club takes its name from the famous OX5 Curtiss water-cooled engine which powered United States and Canadian planes during and after World War I.

as source data, tell only a fragment of the story.

General Stackpole, who has devoted untold hours to the study of the Civil War in general and particular, found the situation so frustrating that he decided he would have to assemble the pieces himself.

30 Years Of Service
However, it was not until he had completed a 30-year span of military training and experience including two wars and the successive command of a squad, platoon, company, regiment, brigade and division that he found time to tackle the project in earnest.

A tremendous amount of research went into the new book, including a thoroughgoing and comprehensive reading of all important source material, spending countless days on the battleground itself, poring over contemporary maps, and talking with others who are well informed on the subject through research or professional attainment.

After sifting out the important material from the inconsequential and the inaccurate, the author has prepared the remaining pieces into a highly readable, coherent and carefully integrated account that is satisfying from every point of view.

Qualified For Task
It was a demanding task, but one for which General Stackpole was peculiarly qualified by a long and fruitful military career, years of experience as a publisher of books and periodicals on military and other subjects, and lifelong residence in Central Pennsylvania within easy access of the battlefield.

General Stackpole's military career began soon after his graduation from Yale University in 1915. He entered the Army, earned his commission and served as an infantry bayonet instructor prior to his departure for France with the 28th (Iron) Division.

As an infantry company commander in World War I, he was seriously wounded while leading his company in the Oise-Aisne campaign and was hospitalized for two years.

His wartime decorations include the Distinguished Service Cross, which ranks second only to the Congressional Medal of Honor, and of which very few were awarded in 1917-18; the Legion of Merit, and the Purple Heart with two clusters.

Long Guard Service
Between wars he devoted most of his free time to the National Guard, in which he rose from the rank of captain to major general, commanding the 22d Cavalry Division.

During World War II he served as commanding general of the Panama Security Command and on special duty with the War Department General Staff, later becoming commanding general of the 28th Infantry Division until his retirement in 1947.

Recently, as a former commanding general of the Pennsylvania National Guard, he was honored by the Governor of Pennsylvania by being elevated on the retired list to the rank of lieutenant general.

The particular appeal of "THEY MET AT GETTYSBURG" for both civilian and military leaders lies in the fact that it avoids a tiresome and complicated setting forth of organizational trivia and tells the story of the three-days' battle in a lucid and straightforward manner.

It gives enough of the background of the campaign so that the reader will know why Lee decided to invade the North, and how the early moves and counter-moves were made.

Discusses Personalities
It discusses personalities and how they influenced the course of the campaign, and describes the terrain and its influence on the strategy and tactics. Finally it recounts with sharp clarity and proper emphasis the successive engagements at Gettysburg which make up the whole of the three-day battle.

The aftermath of Gettysburg is described and discussed in sufficient detail that the reader can answer for himself the question as to why Lee failed in his overall objective yet saved his army from further destruction after that disastrous charge on the third day.

General Stackpole has spiced the account with a number of pinpoint stories and descriptions of the principal actors in the drama. For example, each of the key commanders — corps and division — is described and his portrait included, so that the reader can visualize what sort of man issued the orders, or carried them out, at each stage of the battle.

The same type of painstaking research that went into the rest of the book also was involved in the production of the 19 maps which picture both the general and special situations.

Used Government Surveys
These maps are based on original government surveys conducted immediately after the battle, and on which the units were meticulously plotted in detail.

In reproducing these maps, much topographical and organizational detail has been omitted for clarity and a number of old errors in earlier works have been corrected by careful comparison with the official reports of the various regimental, brigade, division and corps commanders on both sides. The maps from which these sketches were made are generally inaccessible to the general public. Two volumes of them were discovered mouldering in an official repository; others have been generously loaned by the official historian of the National Park — an authority who has devoted a lifetime to the study of the battle.

In the last analysis, the lapse of time before a book such as this came to be written may prove an advantage. For in the writing of "THEY MET AT GETTYSBURG" General Stackpole had the benefit of a perspective of nearly 100 years, and the book is all the more valuable of it.

What Happened Here
For example, the author has been able to determine what really happened at Gettysburg, rather than what participants claimed happened, and to present these events in proper relations both to each other and to the story as a whole.

He has been able to evaluate the various sources of battle material, as well as the battle itself, and to answer, or to present material enabling the reader to answer, the numerous questions which invariably arise concerning Gettysburg and its place in American history.

To an equal extent he has been favored also by an objective attitude. "THEY MET AT GETTYSBURG" is truthful and frank, but unprejudiced, and it will be read with pleasure and satisfaction by descendants of the Blue and Gray alike. There has been no pussy-footing around the controversial features and personalities, but there is no impassioned, argumentative material which would offend anyone.

Of Interest To Visitors
Certainly the many people who annually visit the battlefield, both Americans and foreign guests, would find their visit immeasurably more interesting and profitable if they could read this book beforehand, and take it with them. For it complements and supplements the accounts of the guides and the material to be found in the various excellent guide pamphlets available in and near Gettysburg.

At the same time "THEY MET AT GETTYSBURG" qualifies as a worthwhile addition to the library of anyone who had visited the battlefield in the past, for it will clarify for him what he has seen, and indelibly impress on his memory the story of those terrible three days in 1863. It is the kind of book readers will be proud to pass on to their children and grandchildren, as a permanent addition to their store of knowledge of Americans.

Defeat By Cards May Have Put Redlegs Out Of NL Race; Braves Head East For Brooklyn Games

By JOE REICHLER
The Associated Press

A three-team tug of war only a few days ago, the National League pennant race apparently has simmered down today to a hand-to-hand struggle between the fuzzy-cheeked Milwaukee Braves and the veteran Brooklyn Dodgers.

While the Braves were rebounding yesterday from five straight defeats with a 7-4 and 5-3 doubleheader sweep in Chicago and the Dodgers were knocking off the New York Giants 6-1, the third-place Cincinnati Redlegs absorbed a crushing 13-inning 6-5 defeat in St. Louis to drop three games off the pace—and perhaps out of the pennant fight.

The double triumph enabled the Braves not only to retain their grip on first place but sent them East—and to Brooklyn—with a full game lead over the Dodgers, whom they meet in a crucial two-game series tomorrow night and Wednesday afternoon.

Redlegs Face Giants
The Redlegs will try to pick up precious ground in the Polo Grounds, where they will face the seventh-place Giants tomorrow and Wednesday afternoons.

The American League race is all over but the playing out of the schedule. The runaway Yankees widened their first-place margin to 11 games over Cleveland and Chicago, who split a pair while New York was beating Washington 2-1. Any combination of eight New York victories and—or White Sox and Indians defeats will clinch the seventh flag in eight years for the Yankees.

Chicago came back to defeat Cleveland 6-2 after the Indians had won the opener 4-1. Boston's fourth-place Red Sox nipped Baltimore 3-2 in 12 innings and Detroit walloped Kansas City 7-3 for a sweep of the four-game series.

Bucs, Phils Split
Pittsburgh and Philadelphia swapped a pair of 10-inning decisions, the Pirates winning the opener 4-1 on pinch hitter Bob Skinner's three-run homer and the Phillies winning the second game 6-5 as Rob Roberts gained his 17th victory, in a relief role.

The Braves spotted Chicago four runs on homers by Don Hoak, Monte Irvin and Hobbie Landrih but roared back like champions to tie the score in the fifth and went ahead in the sixth on Bill Bruton's double, a passed ball and relief pitcher Ernie Johnson's sacrifice fly.

The Braves waited until the seventh inning of the second game to snap a 1-1 tie. A walk and singles by Chuck Tanner, Felix Mantilla, Danny O'Connell and Henry Aaron did the trick, producing three runs.

Giants No Trouble
Brooklyn had an easy time of it as young Don Drysdale muffled the Giants with a three-hitter while Carl Furillo drove in four runs with a home run and single. Willie Mays' 30th homer was the only damaging blow by the Giants.

The Reds were ahead 5-4 when the Cards came to bat in the 13th. Herschel Freeman had allowed only one hit in four innings of relief. But Wally Moon singled and scored the tying run on a triple by pinch hitter Walker Cooper. Strategy called for two intentional passes to fill the bases but Ray Katt upset the dope by slapping a single to center scoring pinch runner Bobby Morgan with the run that gave St. Louis a sweep of the three-game series.

17th For Ford
Billy Hunter's two-run triple in the seventh gave Whitey Ford his 17th victory in a southpaw duel with Chuck Stobbs. Ford fanned 11 and gave up six hits to only four for Stobbs, who had beaten the Yankees three times previously.

Herb Score pitched a five-hitter and fanned nine to increase his league-leading strikeout total to 220 in Cleveland's opening game triumph. Veteran Gerry Staley retaliated with a seven-hitter in the second game for his sixth victory.

Billy Goodman's 12th inning single drove in Pete Daley with the run that gave him DeLoach his 12th Boston victory. Baltimore's Connie Johnson was the loser.

Charlie Maxwell and Al Kaline each drove in two runs to help Virgil Trucks win his sixth for Detroit.

BATTING—Henry Aaron, Braves, collected five hits, scored two runs and drove in three to lead Milwaukee to a 7-4 and 5-3 sweep of a doubleheader with the Chicago Cubs.

PITCHING—Don Drysdale, Dodgers, muffled the Giants with three hits in Brooklyn's 6-1 triumph for his fifth victory and fourth against New York.

BASILIO GOES AFTER SAXTON'S CROWN IN N. Y.

Eight men have held two terms as welterweight boss. Ex-champion Carmen Basilio hopes to be the ninth.

The 29-year-old former Marine from Chittenango, N.Y., gets his chance Wednesday night in a return title 15-rounder with champion Johnny Saxton of New York in the War Memorial Auditorium in Syracuse, N.Y.

The bout will be broadcast and telecast coast to coast with TV blackouts in Syracuse, Utica, Rochester, Binghamton and Watertown.

Basilio Is Favorite
Basilio, a 2-1 choice when he dropped his crown to Saxton in Chicago March 14 on a controversial decision, is an 8-5 favorite to win it back on his home grounds. The ring-scarred veteran claimed he was "robbed" in Chicago and most of the fans and boxing writers felt he was entitled to the verdict.

Saxton became the eighth man to reign over the 147-pounders twice when he beat Basilio. He had won the crown from Cuba's Kid Gavilan on another disputed verdict and lost it to Boston's Tony DeMarco, who handed it in turn to Basilio on a 12th-round technical knockout.

Clash Tonight

Willie Troy of Washington and England's John L. Sullivan, a couple of attack-minded middleweights, clash tonight in the feature 10-rounder at New York's St. Nicholas Arena. Troy's record is 33-5-2 with 23 kayos. Sullivan's record is 64-20-3, including 35 kayos.

Du Mont will telecast at 10 p.m., EDT.

Captures 100-Lap Stock Car Race

WILLIAMS GROVE, Pa. (AP) — Frank Schneider, Lambertville, N. J., won the 100-lap feature stock car race by three-quarters of a lap at Williams Grove Speedway yesterday.

Schneider rolled around the 50-mile grind in 1 hour, 10 minutes and 0.7 seconds to beat Red Kagle, Baltimore, by 7/100ths of a second. The race was run under the caution flag at three different times because of accidents but no one was injured.

KEN ROSEWALL TAKES NATIONAL TENNIS CROWN

By ED CORRIGAN
FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — It really made no difference that Ken Rosewall won the national tennis championship.

His victim, Lew Hoad, just as well could have won it.

Either way, the title was headed back to Australia today for the first time since Frank Sedgman took it Down Under in 1952.

What it did show, though, was that American tennis is seriously ailing. Three Australians got into the semifinals and if it hadn't been for old-timer Vic Seixas, it would have been the first all-foreign semifinal in history.

Two Top Amateurs

Seixas was the fellow who was supposed to be all washed up at 33. Yet he advanced further than any other American. Except for Mike Green, the American youngsters showed very little. And Green, besides promise, showed that he was at least a year away from the top.

That's what confronted the American tennis press before and after Rosewall drilled out a 4-6, 6-2, 6-3 victory over Hoad in the final on the wind-swept turf of the West Side Tennis Club.

They were the two amateurs in the world and proved it. The match was a good one, and Rosewall proved the complete master after the first set.

This was Rosewall's first big victory over his Davis Cup mate in more than a year, and it was a good one for it prevented Hoad from scoring a "grand slam." He already had won the French, Australian and Wimbledon titles. Had he grabbed the National, he would have been the second player in history to turn the trick. Don Budge did it in 1938.

Shirley Fry of St. Petersburg, Fla., who won the women's title with a 6-3, 6-4 decision over Althea Gibson, said she was through with tennis for the year.

"My nerves won't take it," said Miss Fry, who also holds the Wimbledon championship.

Senior Extension Team Triumphs 25-1

Scoring in every inning, the Adams County Senior Extension baseball team walloped Cumberland County 25-1 Sunday afternoon at Carlisle in the final game of the four-county league. The circuit is composed of Adams, Franklin, Cumberland and York counties.

Next Sunday the local team will conclude its season by entertaining New Chester on the Recreation Field, the game starting at 2 o'clock.

Baby Is Killed In Automobile Crash

LANGHORNE, Pa. (AP) — Eight-month old Timothy Harvey was killed Saturday when his mother tried to shove a broken dresser hoop from his reach and lost control of her car. The accident occurred in Langhorne Manor, Bucks County.

Mrs. John Harvey, wife of the pastor of the Langhorne Presbyterian Church, told police she reached down for the jagged edge hoop on the floor and the vehicle veered to the right striking a utility pole. Police said the baby apparently struck his head on the dashboard.

DIES OF INJURIES
STROUDSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Mrs. Christine Omolecki, 34, of Nanticoke, Pa., died Saturday night at East Stroudsburg General Hospital from injuries incurred in an automobile accident Thursday.

Mrs. Omolecki was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Roman Omolecki. He told police she swerved to avoid a car that had been in an accident shortly before and his automobile turned over on Rt. 209 near the village of Sciota.

TOY BECOMES ARM

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — When two Knoxville men went on trial for robbing a store of $271, using a toy pistol, defense attorneys argued they couldn't be guilty of armed robbery.

They contended "armed robbery" applies only to "deadly weapons." The jury disagreed. The pair was convicted.

Cashtown Moves To Pen-Mar Playoff Finals; Fairfield Ties Series With Blue Ridge

Cashtown made it two-in-a-row over Union Bridge Sunday afternoon by a 6-5 score to become a finalist in the Pen-Mar Baseball League playoffs while Fairfield evened its series with Blue Ridge Summit via a 13-0 victory.

Next Sunday afternoon Fairfield and Blue Ridge will tangle in the deciding game of their three-game series on the neutral Emmitsburg field.

In winning at Union Bridge, Cashtown was forced to withstand a five-run rally in the eighth inning by the Maryland outfit after having built up a 6-0 lead.

Cashtown tallied a pair of runs in the first inning and drove Childs, Union Bridge starter, from the mound. Bobby Rohrbaugh was safe on an error and Clyde Spence walked. Successive singles by Bill Singley and Skip Pisel brought on Shaffer who retired the next two batsmen.

Single Sparks Rally

Following a trio of walks in the fourth, Singley singled to send Bill Bucher across. Singley accounted for another run with a sacrifice fly to left in the sixth with the bases loaded. Bucher again scoring. Again in the seventh Cashtown loaded the sacks and Bucher sent the fifth run home with a bunt as Ira Herring tallied. The final Cashtown run came in the eighth when I. Herring singled with the bases loaded, Rohrbaugh scoring.

Featured by a three-run homer by Wilhide, Union Bridge scored five times in the eighth. L. Duppins walked and Shenk was safe on an error. P. Duppins singled L. Duppins.

EASTON JOINS CAGE LEAGUE

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — A sixth Pennsylvania city, Easton has been added to the Eastern Professional Basketball League.

Easton, which will play as the Tri-Cities Madisons, was granted a franchise at a league meeting here yesterday.

The league turned down a request by the Harlem, N. Y. Yankees to shift their franchise to Saratoga, N.Y. The club owners said the proposed location was too far removed from the rest of the league cities.

League President Bill Morgan said the owners will meet in Hazleton on Sept. 30 to make final plans for the coming season.

Dr. Crist Gives Gold Balls To Little Leaguers

Members of the All-Star team of the Gettysburg Little League are being presented miniature gold baseballs and chains by Dr. C. G. Crist, one of the borough's most ardent sports fans.

On one side of each baseball is inscribed "Little League All-Stars, 1956" and on the other side the name of the player.

No formal ceremony will be held in presenting the balls and Dr. Crist requests all boys to pick up the awards at his office on Chambersburg St.

Dr. Crist, who whiffed six, yielded only an infield hit to A. Harbaugh and a triple to Smedley.

Fairfield blasted out solid hits in every inning to win with ease.

K. Deardoff smashed a homerun, double and single while Sites pounded a triple and three singles.

OPEN NATIONAL AMATEUR GOLF TOURNEY TODAY

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP) — "Anybody who can't putt on this course just can't putt."

That's a summary of opinions about the Knollwood Club Course, where the National Amateur golf championship began today. And it may be the summary of the whole tournament.

Opinion of the 200 players is virtually unanimous that the big greens, narrowed and reshaped to a certain extent by allowing collars of deeper grass to grow up, have just enough undulation to make putting a challenge. The 6,790-yard Knollwood Course, with a pair of 35-67-71, figures to be a stern but fair test.

Campbell Faces Hyndman

Little Joe Campbell of Anderson, Ind., two-time Big 10 golf champion and a quarter-finalist in this tournament last year, will drop into one of the toughest matches of the 72 scheduled for the first round today.

The confident Little Hoosier who has swept the major Indiana tournaments this year after losing out in his bid for a second National Collegiate title, faced tall Bill Hyndman of Philadelphia, who beat him 2-up in the quarter-finals at Richmond, Va., last year and went on to take a drubbing from San Francisco's Harvie Ward in the final.

Ward, who says he's playing as good golf as he was a year ago, possibly even better, was automatically ranked among the favorites although few picked him to win the title twice in a row. Nobody has succeeded in doing that since Lawson Little in 1934-35.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

HOLLYWOOD — Middleweight boxer George Johnson, Trenton, N.J., was reported resting comfortably and in no immediate danger after taking a bad beating Saturday night from Charley Green of Los Angeles.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. — Pieces of Eight ($19) ran away from Oh Johnny and Terrang to capture the $30,175 Boardwalk Handicap at Atlantic City.

CLEVELAND — With Willie Harback aboard, Bardstown ($5.80) defeated Blue Sparkler in the $46,650 Buckeye Handicap, winning in 1:47 1-5 to set a track record at a mile and an eighth at Randall Park.

DEL MAR, Calif. Jockey Johnny Longden brought in the first four winners at Del Mar to bring his world record career total to 4,881.

Allentown Post Wins Legion Title

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Lentz Post of Allentown won the 31st annual Pennsylvania American Legion baseball championship yesterday, defeating Leesport, 2-1, on an unearned run in the bottom of the seventh inning.

With the score tied at one apiece, two outs and the bases loaded, shortstop Larry Bausher juggled Dan Filigno's grounder, allowing winning pitcher Bob Heffner to score the winning run.

Heffer, who gave up only two hits was named the most valuable player in the two-week tournament.

The youth suffered internal injuries when he fell 30 feet to the box seats along the first base line after the Philadelphia-Pittsburgh game. It was not known how he happened to fall.

CHICAGO BEARS BEAT STEELERS AS GIANTS WIN

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago Bears once again are rumbling like the big, bad Bears who ruled the National Football League in the early 1940s.

With the opening of the scheduled season only three weeks away, the Bears today stood as the only undefeated team in the league after defeating the Pittsburgh Steelers Saturday night 21-10 for their fourth exhibition victory.

The New York Giants, who also are showing threatening signs of being a power in the Eastern Conference, downed the San Francisco 49ers 21-14 for their third win in four outings and Washington defeated Green Bay 17-10 in

I GUESS I NEVER WILL UNDERSTAND WOMEN

THEY KNOW MY MEN AND I CONTROL THE JUNGLE - THEY DO NOT DISTURB OUR LITTLE SPIDER WEB!

AND NOW - LET US ENJOY THE EVENING WITHOUT THOUGHT TO THE GENDARMES OR MY OTHER GUEST!

I WONDER WHERE SCORON IS?

LET'S SEE YOU (BROKEN BUBBLE)

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A silent gunman got $500 in a holdup conducted entirely in sign language. He got the drop on market clerk Enrique Martinez, then motioned for him to summon the proprietor, Addy Gerst, 39, to open the safe. "I didn't understand the sign language too well," Gerst said later, "but that 45 automatic he had made everything clear."

HIGHLIGHTS

7:30—(2-9) ADV. OF ROBIN HOOD—A series of dramas revolving around the legendary hero of England's Sherwood Forest, starring Richard Greene. "Will Scarlet," a young dandy, proves to be quite a man with sword and staff to the amusement and satisfaction of Robin Hood and his band of Merry Men. (7-13) BOLD JOURNEY—True life travels of adventurous people. "Trail to Sonora," story of husband-wife team, Matilda and Mary Lou Stewart, show life among the Yaqui Indians of Sonora, Mex. The Stewart's cameras reveal the desert setting as one making his first trip to the strange land would see animals, snakes and giant spiders besetting the traveler's path through the weird landscapes of this almost forgotten land. (8-00) (2-8-9) GEORGE BURNS AND GRACIE ALLEN SHOW—Gracie employs a rather questionable method of assuring her acceptance in a fashionable ladies club. Doris Parker will be featured. (Premiere) (4-11) ERNIE KOVACS SHOW—Program of music, comedy and variety starring Ernie Kovacs and his wife Edie Adams with the Hamilton Trio—dancers, actor, comedian, Henry Lascoe and Barbara and guest stars. (7-13) "SQUEEGEE"—comedy film starring Ben Blue. Window cleaner achieves national fame for making accurate stock market predictions. (8-00) (2-8-9) GEORGE BURNS AND GRACIE ALLEN SHOW—Gracie employs a rather questionable method of assuring her acceptance in a fashionable ladies club. Doris Parker will be featured. ADLAI DEFINES '56 CAMPAIGN ISSUES IN TALK

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson declared Saturday that the 1956 political issues are "not peace and prosperity" but "how we go about getting them."

The Democratic presidential nominee tried to undercut the Republicans on their peace and prosperity theme in remarks prepared for delivery at a "homecoming" reception in this city in which he served a term as governor. Stevenson said there is much more to be done about both peace and prosperity and added: "It is not enough for America just to hold on to what we have." It's too bad, he said, that "when we talk about improving things as they are the charge is made that we are selling America short."

Evidently in deference to the nature of the civic welcome, from a city with a Republican mayor, Stevenson didn't go after the GOP very hard in his text. But neither did he pass up the chance to remind his audience that Republican state auditor Orville E. Hodge is serving 12 to 15 years in prison for pocketing 1 1/2 million dollars in state money. He did it by saying that "Like all of you, regardless of partisanship, citizens who love Illinois, I have felt a deep hurt at the recent revelations of almost unbelievable abuse of the obligations of stewardship of this state's affairs."

And Stevenson lauded Richard Austin, the new Democratic candidate for governor, as a worthy opponent for any satisfied Republican, in his audience and as a great governor for "all the rest of you."

Triplets Require Some New Changes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"Mommy's got triplets! Mommy's got triplets!" That's what 2 1/2-year-old Bruno Ve Sota sang through the neighborhood yesterday. He said they'd be named Davy Crockett, the Lone Ranger and Tonto.

But at the hospital where the triplets were born to Mrs. Genevieve Ve Sota, 30, Mommy said the names would be Marie Grace, Grace Marie and Mary Elmore. The arrivals weighed 6 pounds 4 ounces, 5 pounds 1 ounce and 5 pounds 7 ounces.

The family now will have to move out of its one-bedroom apartment, the mother added.

HUH?
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—Emanuel Welch, 29, of Detroit, arrested and charged with drunk driving, told police under questioning that he sometimes used an alias: Sebastian Bogankinzenelengrinskiyork. And he was able to pronounce and spell it three times without trouble, officers said.

to the Democratic State Central Committee when the original party candidate for governor, Cook County treasurer Herbert C. Paschen, was eased out. Paschen withdrew after it developed that an employee welfare fund was operating in his office—with bankers putting up the money. "The issues are not peace and prosperity. These are the things we agree on. The issues are how we go about getting them, how we make this a prosperity not just for some of us but for all of us, how we go about using this prosperity for the things we need most—like schools—and how we achieve a lasting peace in all the world—for nothing less than that is really peace at all," said Stevenson.

BOTH PARTIES TO OVERSTATE THIN ISSUES

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats and Republicans will adorn ordinary ideas in grand clothes and otherwise overstate their case in this campaign where the issues run pretty thin. They'll make the most of what they have to work with.

Adlai Stevenson this week got headlines with his call for an end to the draft. This may have seemed startling at quick glance. But, on examination, all he really said was: The draft should be ended when it's safe to do so.

It took him four paragraphs to get to the point. But a Republican, Arthur Larson, has just taken 210 pages to make this point: That the Republicans can run the government better than the Democrats.

Some Overstatements

This was in his book "A Republican Looks At His Party." Because of the book Larson, undersecretary of labor and a law school dean on leave, has been mentioned as the kind of Republican likely to attract intellectuals to the party.

But even a nonintellectual is apt to think Larson oversteated his case in this one-sided political document which credits Republicans with a new kind of wisdom and brushes lightly over the achievements of the Democrats.

An intellectual would certainly know that in the vastly complicated business of government the two parties have had their hands in too many pies over too many years for either to claim the lion's share of credit.

Time Will Tell

Larson says: "It is the genius of the Eisenhower administration that has merged and brought into balance all the positive forces in our country. It is not against any of them... It has found a way to encourage them to work together for a common benefit."

This he calls the "New Republicanism" and a new "philosophy" of government.

Eisenhower very guardedly says the book represents his philosophy generally. But not all Republicans think like Eisenhower any more than all Democrats think like Stevenson.

Time may show, therefore, when Eisenhower is out of the picture and other men run the party, that the "New Republicanism" was strictly Eisenhower's philosophy, or perhaps a reflection of his personality, and not a lasting party philosophy at all. But that Larson overstates his case is plain enough.
